

Special Operations Mission Planning & Execution

July 19th & 20th

9am – 5pm

Course Description:

Prepare to plan, lead, and execute at the tip of the spear. This intensive 2-day Special Operations Mission Planning course is designed for warriors, strategists, and team leaders ready to sharpen their edge in high-stakes environments. Through fast-paced, scenario-driven instruction, participants will master the fundamentals of SOF mission planning—covering everything from target analysis and CONOP development to team coordination, asset integration, and contingency planning.

Day one immerses students in the planning cycle, with hands-on tools used by elite units around the globe. Day two accelerates into execution mode with a force-on-force Field Training Exercise (FTX), a dynamic, full-spectrum operation where your team will test your plan under pressure, adapt to a fluid threat environment, and outmaneuver an opposing force.

Whether you're preparing for deployment or training to lead in complex tactical environments, this course delivers a high-impact blend of strategy, realism, and grit. Mission sets will change. Conditions will shift. Success will depend on your ability to think, decide, and lead fast.
